CLOSEST TO A WIN (NONE IS A CLEAR YES)

Multi-Peptide Body Oil (NØRD BODY)

Backlog

No clear yes yet, but the peptide body oil is the best lead: one brand has advertised it alone for four months, it is white-label so you can source it, and Germany shows no copies so far.

HOW TO READ THIS

Demand
Are more people searching for it than a year ago (last 2 years only), and is Amazon selling units? Green = rising.

Same product in shops
A PHOTO search in each country, then a check of what a shopper finds by typing the product words. Red = in a big chain. Amber = a cheaper copy shoppers will find or trust. Light green = copies exist but are hidden or about the same price. Green = nobody else.

Amazon
Are there listings with thousands of reviews? Green = not yet.

Advertisers
How many brands run Facebook ads for it today, and when did they start? One brand for months = proof. Dozens in the last few weeks = a swarm.

Cost to buy
What a supplier such as AliExpress charges for it, and what that leaves you per sale. Green = 70% or more left.

Checked on 2026-10-11. Markets move fast, so check again before you spend money. Keep in mind: Product costs are estimates: supplier prices are starting prices before shipping; Ad counts only include ads that use the exact product words, so real numbers can be higher; Green on a map means we found nobody else selling this exact item there, not that nobody does; Lash adhesive is a cosmetic used near the eye: selling in the EU or UK needs a safety assessment and product registration.

COUNTRY		WHAT WE FOUND	BRAND VS CHEAPEST COPY
Germany	Green	Picture search found nobody but the brand selling this object here
Australia	Amber	amazon.com.au at $29.90: Amazon result 5 for the product words. 7 other copies	A$55 vs A$20
United States	Amber	amazon.com at $27.80: Amazon result 6 for the product words, with 11 reviews and 300+ bought in past month. 7 other copies	US$37 vs US$17
United Kingdom	Amber	amazon.co.uk at £11.99: Amazon result 1 for the product words. 7 other copies	£28 vs £12
New Zealand	Amber	amazon.com.au at $29.90: Amazon result 5 for the product words. 6 other copies	NZ$62 vs NZ$20

Red = in a big chain. Amber = a cheaper copy that shoppers will find or trust. Light green = copies exist but are hidden, weak or about the same price. Green = nobody else found. Grey = not checked.

Best region: Germany: no copy found by photo or in the top shopper results, and the proof (four months of ads) comes from Australia.

Proof the price gap is survivable: NØRD BODY has kept ads running for 4 months at A$55 while copies sell for less than half that in 4 of 5 countries. Shoppers are paying the gap, so a cheaper copy existing has not stopped this product selling.

PICTURE CHECK IDENTICAL The same amber pump bottle and box, sold without the brand name on AliExpress and by many sellers on Amazon.

Multi-Peptide Body Oil (NØRD BODY)

Unbranded on AliExpress

WHY BACKLOG

- NØRD BODY runs 199 of the 202 ads for "peptide body oil", live since 8 June, about 50 new ads a month
- It is a white-label oil: the same bottle and box are on AliExpress without the brand, so you can source it
- Germany is clear so far; the UK has it at £11.99 (Amazon result 1) and the US at US$27.80

BIGGEST RISK

A white-label product can be copied by anyone overnight, and EU cosmetics rules apply before the first sale.

WHAT TO DO NEXT

- Ask the AliExpress supplier whether the oil comes with EU cosmetic safety paperwork (a CPSR) and registration
- If yes, test in Germany with German ads: 3 short massage videos, about €20 a day for 5 days

One brand owns it

NØRD BODY is alone: 199 of the 202 ads are theirs, running steadily since June. Four months of spending is good proof the ads pay. The only other advertisers (Coco & Eve and two small shops) ran one ad each.

New Zealand	Light green	3 copies, all hard to find. Cheapest: Amazon (not in the top results, 0 reviews)
Australia	Amber	Temu: on Temu or Shein. 9 other copies	A$44 vs A$9
United Kingdom	Amber	Amazon.co.uk - Amazon.co.uk-Seller at £5.99: Google Shopping result 3 for the product words. 10 other copies	£22 vs £6
United States	Red	The same object is sold by Ulta Beauty at $32	US$29 vs US$8
Canada	Red	The same object is sold by Walmart at CA$18	C$40 vs C$15

Red = in a big chain. Amber = a cheaper copy that shoppers will find or trust. Light green = copies exist but are hidden, weak or about the same price. Green = nobody else found. Grey = not checked.

Best region: None of the six. The proof is in Italy, which these checks do not cover; Spain or Portugal would copy that playbook.

Proof the price gap is survivable: DermoCosmetic has kept ads running for 6 months at €24.99 while copies sell for less than half that in 4 of 5 countries. Shoppers are paying the gap, so a cheaper copy existing has not stopped this product selling.

PICTURE CHECK IDENTICAL The same rose-gold square compact with a mirror: Tarte's original, and many look-alikes.

Under-Eye CC Cream Compact (DermoCosmetic)

Tarte at Sephora (US$32)

WHY BACKLOG

- DermoCosmetic runs all 61 Italian ads for "correttore occhiaie" and its oldest has run since 30 March
- It is a look-alike of Tarte's Colored Clay CC Undereye Corrector, sold by Sephora, Ulta, Kohl's and Macy's at US$32
- Look-alikes are easy to find: £5.99 on Amazon UK and on Temu in Australia

BIGGEST RISK

Copying a famous brand's look invites ad takedowns, and EU cosmetics need a safety report and registration before the first sale.

WHAT TO DO NEXT

- Get a quote for an EU cosmetic safety report and registration from a Responsible Person service
- If it is affordable, test a market DermoCosmetic is not in (Spain or Portugal) with your own branding

In Italy DermoCosmetic is alone: all 61 ads for "correttore occhiaie" are theirs, the oldest from 30 March, and 23 started this month. Six months of spend means it pays. The ads are Italian, so this proves Italy, not the six countries on the map.

PICTURE CHECK IDENTICAL The same chrome tube with a white grip and snap mechanism; Amazon sells the same design in other colours.

Magnetic Tennis Swing Trainer (SwngPro)

Walmart Canada (CA$23)

WHY BACKLOG

- Swng runs 60+ ads and is ramping fast (36 started in October), with almost no other advertisers
- A supplier sells it from about US$8, so roughly 90% of the US$89 price is left for ads and profit
- But copies are easy to find: Amazon US result 3 at US$29.99, UK result 2 at £17, Germany result 1 at €45.99

BIGGEST RISK

Swng's ads are only six weeks old, so they are not yet proof it pays, and Amazon copies undercut US$89 by two thirds.

WHAT TO DO NEXT

- Check again in early December: if Swng's late-August ads are still running, the ads pay
- Then test it for padel or pickleball players, which Swng ignores: 3 short ads, about €20 a day for 5 days

Neck Firming Cream (Mudganics)

Skin Physics neck cream at Priceline (A$80), a different brand

WHY AVOID

- 40 brands advertise "neck firming cream" and 38 of them started in the last two months: a swarm
- Amazon is enormous: 431,550+ bought last month in the US, top listings with 19,000-37,900 reviews
- You cannot buy this formula: you would need your own private-label cream against StriVectin, Olay and dozens of Amazon brands

BIGGEST RISK

Firming and anti-ageing claims on a cosmetic need evidence and safety paperwork, and Meta reviews before-and-after ads strictly.

WHAT TO DO NEXT

- Skip it. Demand is real, but sellers are flooding in faster than it grows

Pre-Glued Lash Starter Kit (Lola's Lashes)

WHY AVOID

- Ardell, KISS imPRESS and GLAM pre-glued clusters sit in Target, Walmart, Kmart, Priceline and Chemist Warehouse from about US$12
- At least 28 brands advertise "pre-glued lashes"; Lola's alone runs 147 of 250 ads and has advertised since February
- Amazon is heavy: 10,550+ bought last month in the US, and the top listing in Canada has 25,100 reviews

BIGGEST RISK

You would need your own lash brand, safety paperwork and creative good enough to beat established beauty brands on cost per sale.

WHAT TO DO NEXT

- Skip this as a product test. If beauty appeals, look for a lash-care add-on (remover, storage, aftercare) with fewer advertisers

No-Rinse Foam Paw Cleanser (Dandylion)

Dandylion's own bottle at Target

WHY AVOID

- The same foam-and-brush bottle is in the top results everywhere: Amazon US result 2 at US$13.95 with 1,100 reviews
- 38 brands advertise "paw cleaner" and 32 of them started in the last two months: a swarm
- At about CA$20 a bottle, there is little room to pay for ads against Wet Ones, Bugalugs and Pets at Home's own range

BIGGEST RISK

A low-priced liquid: shipping and ad costs eat most of the margin unless customers reorder.

WHAT TO DO NEXT

- Skip it. If pet care appeals, look for a higher-priced pet product with fewer sellers

No-Rinse Foam Paw Cleanser (Dandylion)

Who is advertising it on Facebook and Instagram right now? Live ads using the words “paw cleaner”, from Facebook's own ad library, 2026-10-11.

A swarm, right now

It's a swarm: 38 brands, 32 of them new in the last two months, several from shops opened this year. The phrase also catches paw-washing cups, but the pattern is clear: many sellers piling in, and Dandylion is not among the top advertisers.

OLDEST AD STILL RUNNING, BRAND BY BRAND (MONTH/YEAR)

Each brand is counted once, in the month its oldest still-running ad began. Facebook only shows ads that are still running and brands replace them often, so a brand can be far older than its bar. The shop ages in the table below are the better guide to who is new.
